
UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO BOULDER
SPECIAL T

COURSE OBJECTIVES

By the end of the course you should be able to:

- Illustrate how microeconomic theory applies to business decisions.
- Apply the supply and demand model to managerial decisions.
- Demonstrate basic and advanced pricing techniques to increase economic profit.
- Apply the concepts of present value, net present value and future value to make managerial decision.

viewpoints of other students in the class. It is therefore necessary to participate throughout the week in the discussion questions, not wait until the last minute to post on discussion topics.

EVALUATION AND GRADING

Course grades will be determined by the completion of quizzes, case study analysis, other assignments, and exams, as shown below:

Quiz	(10)	* (11)	= 110	11%
Case Study Analysis

(360 POINTS) – There will be ten (10) 40-point problem sets, discussion postings, or Excel spreadsheet exercises (or a combination). The lowest one (1) weekly work is dropped from the final grade calculation.

- Problem sets will be a combination of calculations, graphical analysis, and short answer questions.
- Discussion postings will occur asynchronously; the instructor will post a discussion question and the student will (1) complete and initial post in response to the discussion question and (2) engage in discussion with classmates.
- Excel spreadsheet exercises will require students to manipulate and interpret data related to the microeconomics of managerial decisions.

(350 POINTS) – There will be two (2) proctored exams. The midterm exam is worth 150 points and the cumulative final exam is worth 200 points. The exams will a combination multiple choice, calculation, graphical analysis, short answer, and Excel spreadsheet questions.

Exams are proctored which will require planning on your part. Proctors are individuals who administer the exam process following the guidelines provided by University of Colorado Boulder to ensure academic integrity.

REQUIREMENTS FOR COVID-19

As a matter of public health and safety due to the pandemic, all members of the CU Boulder community and all visitors to campus must follow university, department and building requirements, and public health orders in place to reduce the risk of spreading infectious disease. Required safety measures at CU Boulder relevant to the classroom setting include:

- maintain 6-foot distancing when possible,

- wear a face covering in public indoor spaces and outdoors while on campus consistent with state and county health orders,

- clean local work area,

- practice hand hygiene,

- follow public health orders, and

- if sick and you live off campus, do not come onto campus (unless instructed by a CU Healthcare professional), or if you live on-campus, please alert CU Boulder Medical Services.

Students who fail to adhere to these requirements will be asked to leave class, and students who do not leave class when asked or who refuse to comply with these requirements will be referred to Student Conduct and Conflict Resolution. For more information, see the policies on COVID-19 Health and Safety and classroom behavior and the Student Code of Conduct. If you require accommodation because a disability prevents you from fulfilling these safety measures, please see the "Accommodation for Disabilities" statement on this syllabus.

Before returning to campus, all students must complete the COVID-19 Student Health and Expectations Course. Before coming on to campus each day, all students are required to complete a Daily Health Form.

Students who have tested positive for COVID-19, have symptoms of COVID-19, or have had close contact with someone who has tested positive for or had symptoms of COVID-19 must stay home and complete the Health Questionnaire and Illness Reporting Form remotely. In this class, if you are sick or quarantined please let me know via email or by calling/texting.
