1. Course Description

This course introduces the theoretical framework for analyzing the economic behavior of individual decision-makers, such as consumers, workers, and firms. The course will be divided roughly into 3 parts. The first will be an introduction

4. Course Policies

Grading Scheme

Attendance	8 %
Recitations	7 %
Graded Problem Sets	20 %
Midterms(2)	20 % each
Final Exam	25 %

I will follow the economics department guidelines and assign letter grades with a += . Grades will not be discussed over email due to the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act. Please come to office hours if you would like to discuss your grade.

Exams

Midterm 1	Sep 27 (Fri), in class
Midterm 2	Nov 1 (Fri), in class
Final	Dec 15 (Sun), 1:30 - 3:00 p.m.

^ 2 Midterms 100 points each, 20% of final grade (each), non-cumulative

There will be no make-up exams.

If you miss a midterm due to a proven emergency (e.g: extreme sickness), the weight of your midterm will be shifted to the final exam. If you miss an exam for any other reason, you will automatically receive minimum credit for that exam. I reserve the sole right to determine what grounds constitutes a reasonable emergency.

^ Final Exam 125 points, 25% of final grade, cumulative

You must take the final exam, you will automatically receive a F if you do not.

Attendance (Clicker Questions)

During each class, you will be given 3-4 clicker questions (a total of approximately 120+ clicker questions during the semester). These questions will be basic exercises directly related to the content dealt with in the lectures, and thus would be hard to miss if you are present (= paying attention) in class. At the end of each lecture, 10:00 p.m.

MyLab Problem Sets (12 sets, 20% of your final grade)

Each week, you will be given open-book/ open-notes problems for homework.

- ^ The problem sets will consist of multiple choice, calculations, and short answer questions.
- ^ Two problem sets will be dropped and not be counted towards your final grade.

Because of this policy, I do not accept late homework for any reason including being sick.

However, if you are sick for an extended period of time we can make arrangements.

- ^ The Problem Sets will be submitted through MyLab and will typically be due on Fridays 11:59 pm.
- ^ I recommend you do all the problem sets as the exams will be structured similarly to homework questions.

Recitations

Starting from the second week, you will meet weekly with the TA for this course. The goal of these recitations is for you to ask questions, review concepts and practice material. Sessions with your TA are mandatory, and your TA will determine the details of how your grades will be assigned.

Communication

Outside of lectures and office hours, the optimal way to contact me would be through email.

- ^ Please use your colorado.edu account because other email accounts are sometimes filtered into my spam folder.
- ^ Please allow 24 hours for a response during the week, and 48 hours on weekends.

5. University Policies

Classroom Behavior

Both students and faculty are responsible for maintaining an appropriate learning environment in all instructional settings, whether in person, remote or online. Those who fail to adhere to such behavioral standards may be subject to discipline. Professional courtesy and sensitivity are especially important with respect to individuals and topics dealing with race, color, national origin, sex, pregnancy, age, disability, creed, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, veteran status, political affiliation or political philosophy. For more information, see the classroom behavior policy, the Student Code of Conduct and the Office of Institutional Equity and Compliance.

Requirements for Covid-19

As a matter of public health and safety, all members of the CU Boulder community and all visitors to campus must follow university, department and building requirements and all public health orders in place to reduce the risk of spreading infectious disease. CU Boulder currently requires COVID-19 vaccination and boosters for all faculty, staff and students. Students, faculty and staff must upload proof of vaccination and boosters or file for an exemption based on medical, ethical or moral grounds through the MyCUHealth portal.

The CU Boulder campus is currently mask-optional. However, if public health conditions change and masks are again required in classrooms, students who fail to adhere to masking requirements will be asked to leave class, and students who do not leave class when asked or who refuse to comply with these requirements will be referred to Student Conduct and Conflict Resolution. For more information, see the policy on classroom behavior and the Student Code of Conduct. If you require accommodation because a disability prevents you from fulfilling these safety measures, please follow the steps in the Accommodation for Disabilities statement on this syllabus.

If you feel ill and think you might have COVID-19, if you have tested positive for COVID-19, or if you are unvaccinated or partially vaccinated and have been in close contact with someone who has COVID-19, you should stay home and follow the further guidance of the Public Health Office (contacttracing@colorado.edu). If you are fully vaccinated and have been in close contact with someone who has COVID-19, you do not need to stay home; rather, you should self-monitor for symptoms and follow the further guidance of the Public Health Office (contacttracing@colorado.edu).

Accommodations For Disabilities

Honor Code

All students enrolled in a University of Colorado Boulder course are responsible for knowing and adhering to the Honor Code academic integrity policy. Violations of the Honor Code may include, but are not limited to: plagiarism, cheating, fabrication, lying, bribery, threat, unauthorized access to academic materials, clicker fraud, submitting the same or similar work in more than one course without permission from all course instructors involved, and aiding academic dishonesty. All incidents of academic misconduct will be reported to the Student Conduct & Conflict Resolution (honor@colorado.edu ; 303-492-5550). Students found responsible for violating the academic integrity policy will
